DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 31-40, drawn to an autologous culture medium of autologous human progenitor cells.

Group II, claim(s) 41-43, drawn to a method for preparing autologous human progenitor stem cells.

Group III, claim(s) 44, drawn to use of an autologous culture medium of autologous human progenitor stem cells.

Group IV, claim(s) 45-47, drawn to a method for preparing a composition of autologous human progenitor stem cells.

Group V, claim(s) 48-52, drawn to a method for obtaining autologous human muscle progenitor stem cells.

Group VI, claim(s) 53-58, drawn to a procedure for obtaining autologous human muscle progenitor stem cells from a biopsy of muscle tissue.

Group VII, claim(s) 59, drawn to a composition enriched in autologous human muscle progenitor stem cells.

Group VIII, claim(s) 60-61, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising autologous progenitor stem cells.

Group IX, claim(s) 62, drawn to a therapeutic procedure of autologous cellular cardiomyoplasty.

Group X, claim(s) 63-65, drawn to a therapeutical procedure of autologous cellular cardiomyoplasty.

The inventions listed as Groups I-X do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The technical feature that the inventions have in common is the culture medium comprising a) 0.1%-90% autologous human serum, b) 0.1%-10.000 UI/ml heparin, c) 0.1 % -10.000 UI/ml protamine and d) a base culture medium including basic nutrients. This technical feature is an obvious variant of a known composition described in Xia et al (The Journal of Immunology, page 1134, figure 5). The expression "special technical feature" refers to those features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Thus, a feature found in the prior art or rendered obvious by the prior art cannot be considered to be a special technical feature. According to MPEP 1801, whether or not any particular technical feature makes a "contribution" over the prior art, and therefore constitutes a "special technical feature," should be considered with respect to novelty and inventive step.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
